MINERAL HILL.

Its Wealth and Prospects—Who are There—Disapproves Annexation—Etc.

MINERAL HILL, ELKO CO.,
January 24th, 1871.
EDITOR STATE REGISTER: Knowing that you feel a great interest in this section of the State, and particularly in the districts of this county, I thought it might not be amiss, in the absence of a regular correspondent, to let you know what was going on hereabouts. Notwithstanding its close proximity to the railroad, this place is less known than any mining district of equal promise in the State. People are constantly passing on to Eureka, White Pine and Pioche, paying no attention to

THE VAST WEALTH
Of our mines; seeming to be under the impression that we have but one mine, which is in the hands of the Mineral Hill Mining Company. This is a gross error. The company have, in all, thirty-seven locations, one-half of which they work themselves, employing about fifty men, taking out from fifteen to twenty tons of ore a day, which will work about two hundred dollars a ton. The other half of the company's mines are leased or worked on shares, and are taking out rock equally rich in proportion to the mines worked by the company. The Austin mine is owned by Messrs. Spencer, Fleming, Cromby, McCabe and Plummer. This mine is working from twenty-five to thirty men, and taking out an average of fifteen tons a day. Some of this ore will work from eight hundred to one thousand dollars per ton. They have the largest body of this class of ore in sight, ever seen in the State, not overlooking the Elberhardt. The "Crooks Co." or "Big Sandy," owned by Messrs. Bradley, Ruppel, and others, is a chloride mine. They are taking out ore which will work from fifteen hundred to twenty-five hundred dollars a ton. There are other mines of the class, and many others of a lower grade which would give a handsome revenue to their owners; and the mines above mentioned could extract five times the quantity of ore, if it were profitable to have them worked. What we want to make our district heard from is milling facilities. We have now but one mill, a ten stamp, Stetefeldt furnace, which can crush an average of ten tons a day. It is now under lease to the M. H. M. Co. The bullion turned out from this mill for the month of December, amounted to sixty thousand dollars. As there are now twenty-five hundred tons of ore on the dump waiting to be crushed, and ten times as much in sight, I do not think there could be a better place for a mill than this.

OPPOSED TO ANNEXATION.
Our community have been very much disturbed at the effort to take this from Elko and annex it to Lander county. We are ninety miles from Austin, the county seat of Lander, and are within stage communication; while with Elko we have direct daily communication by stage and rail. We hope that the members of the Legislature will not be hasty in this matter, as not one out of twenty of the inhabitants of this place are in favor of any change.

OUR POPULATION.
We have a population of about four hundred, and have, perhaps, sixty houses. A hotel is in course of construction, to be called the "Bradley House." Hon. P. C. Hyman, formerly of Hamilton, is to be "mine host." Hyman is a good fellow, and we think he can "keep a hotel." We shall put him to the proof in a week or so, as I understand he will have his house open in that time. John R. Bradley, son of Gov. Bradley is in business here. He left for California a few days ago with, I hear, the intention of bringing his family to reside at this place. Col. Bains, formerly of White Pine, latterly of Eureka, has just completed and opened a handsome saloon. The mention of this gentleman's name is sufficient, for those who know him are sure to give him a call if they pass this way. Luther Clark, of Hamilton, is here, and I understand that he will deal out the "leverage" at the Bradley House. Luther never refuses to give or take a "smile." We have also Joseph Roberts, Secretary of the California State Senate, as agent of the M. H. M. Co. Everybody likes Jo.

We can congratulate the travelers by stage upon the removal of the stage from the Cosmos Hotel to E. Ham's Hotel. If they do not eat their meals in peace now, it will be their own fault, as the gentlemanly proprietor will do all in his power for the comfort of his guests.
If you find my effusion worthy a place in your paper, you may hear from me again. SCRIBBLER.

ADVICE TO THE DEMOCRACY.—The Mobile Register advises the Democracy of Alabama in their triumph to devote their energies to developing the State, and to avoid brooding over the past, in which connection it relates the following:
"We remember once traveling on a Mississippi steamer, to have been deeply interested in overlooking a game of bluff where a 'bale better' was voted just the thing. Among the players was a clerical looking gentleman of ripe middle age, florid, imperturbable, and evidently meaning business. Each time the cards were being shuffled the more excitable players would talk over what might have been, if such a card had been somewhere else; and each time our quiet friend would call them back to the matter in hand with the sage counsel: 'Look yere, gen'l'm'n, thar aint no use a-playin, post mortem hands!'"

It is the deliberate conviction of a Boston cotemporary that "a man who will not do anything himself, nor let any one else do anything by way of public improvements, ought to keep tavern after everybody else is dead."

Benjamin P. Shillaber, whose "Sayings of Mrs. Partington" were so popular a few years ago, retired on the last day of the year from his editorial connection with the periodicals published by Thomas & Talbot, of Boston.

A correspondent of a Cleveland paper began a letter recently with the frank statement that it devolved upon him to contradict, in some particulars, nearly every item of news contained in his last.
